DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to applicant's amendment received 16 April 2007.

The examiner acknowledges the amendments made to the claims.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-9, 12-14, and 21 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

- The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).
3. Claims 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gifford, III et al. (hereinafter "Gifford") (U.S. Patent No. 5,904,697)

Art Unit: 3734

Claim 12: Gifford discloses a substantially hollow chamber and an introducer positioned at a distal end of the chamber and having a lumen open to the chamber, the introducer configured to substantially seal against the target vessel, whereby the chamber substantially maintains hemostasis, a cutting device 131 configured to form the opening in the target vessel, and a graft vessel attachment device 121 configured to deliver and deploy the implantable anastomosis device 100 to connect the graft vessel 148 and the target vessel, wherein the cutting device and the graft vessel attachment device are mechanically linked (with T-shaped handle 133) to sequentially pass the cutting device and the graft vessel attachment device through a particular point in proximity to an anastomosis site, and wherein the cutting device moves to a position within the chamber, and remains at a position within the chamber, after forming the opening in the target vessel (Figures 2-6C; col. 5, line 49 to col. 6, line 6; col. 17, lines 11-46; col. 18, lines 11- 28; col. 19, line 36 to col. 21, line 9)

Claims 13-14: Gifford discloses the device being configured to form the opening and devlier and deploy the implanatable anastomosis device without passing the cutting device or the graft vessel attachment device through a lumen of the graft vessel – “atraumatic” (col. 6, lines 3-6).

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1-8 and 21 are allowed. The prior art does not disclose or teach a cutting device being movable both longitudinally along an anastomosis tool, which is well known in the art, as well as transversely or off-axis with respect to the longitudinal axis of the anastomosis tool while also remaining at a position within a chamber of the device after forming an opening in the target vessel.
